☀️ Make your summer job help you get your “real” job someday.
Look for a job that:

- ➡️ Is in your future industry or career path (Right up your alley!)
- ➡️ Lets you serve people (Hello, people skills!)
- ➡️ Allows you to handle money or care for property, minors, or seniors (“Responsible is my middle name.”)

What has been your best resume-building job so far? Comment below. 🙌

Strap a rocket to your resume 🚀, help others ❤️, and feel fab 😊.

How?

Volunteer.

Win + win + win! 🎉

Like if you volunteer (or plan to!).

Community College professors are less qualified.

❌ MYTH ❌

Did you know most of our professors meet the following qualifications?

- ✅ Have a Master’s degree or higher
- ✅ Have experience in the industry
- ✅ Are experts in their field
- ✅ Want to focus on teaching vs researching

We are lucky to have such passionate and dedicated faculty at [College Name].

Give a shout out to your favorite professor. 📣

 Summer is for R, R, & R: rest, relaxation, and rejuvenation.

Double tap if you agree. ❤️

Before summer flies by and you're back on campus, take time to:

- Get out in nature. Hike, laze at the beach, and ride your bike.
- Catch up with friends. Grab your pals for the above-listed fun, see a summer blockbuster together or just meet for coffee.
- Try something new. Push past the fear and go for it.
- Indulge in some "you" time. Pamper yourself with a massage.
- Spend some time with your family doing what they want.
- Attend a local festival, fair or special event.
- Take a personal enrichment class at [College Name].
